SOME NEW INDUCTEES AT THE ANNUAL BANQUET

PKP held its annual banquet on February 15, 2009, in the WSC Ballroom with 600 people in attendance and welcomed 291 new inductees.

Associate Vice President for Research, Professor Robert Webb, represented the university administration at the banquet. He congratulated the inductees on their academic success and, citing national admission statistics, included the new PKP inductees and BYU students in general among the finest students to attend even the most prestigious universities. He challenged each to use their gifts and skills to perform "good works" and bless the lives of others.

The featured speaker at the banquet was Professor Susan Easton Black who addressed the topic, "Enjoy the Journey." She encouraged those in attendance to remember their identity as children of God and reassured all that true joy will follow—as it did for early members of the Church whose lives she has studied—as they make wise decisions during life's journey.

At our annual banquet we welcomed our new PKP chapter president, Professor Howard Gray (Recreation Management/Youth Leadership), and expressed heartfelt thanks for service rendered by Professor Susanne Davis (Dance) this past year.

SERVICE AWARDS

Five service awards were given at the banquet: three to faculty and two to PKP's first two student vice presidents:

Stephen Jones

Honor Award as outstanding teacher, composer, leader, and administrator at BYU

Mary Bee Jensen

Alumni Award for outstanding contributions to BYU and the world of dance as presenter, teacher, leader, and director

J Robert Driggs

Distinguished Member Award for outstanding contributions to BYU, community, Church, and world

Dr. Susanne Davis, president of BYU's Phi Kappa Phi Chapter, Paul Theodosis, and Cassandra Lawyer

Paul Theodosis

As inaugural BYU Chapter Phi Kappa Phi student vice president, for Outstanding Service Award, 2008–2009

Cassandra Lawyer

As inaugural BYU Chapter Phi Kappa Phi student vice president, for Outstanding Service Award, 2008–2009

The Ellsworth Award was given to an exemplary student Krista Cockerill, majoring in communication disorders. The award is named after Carol Ellsworth, longtime friend and leader of PKP. She endowed the scholarship five years ago; it is awarded each year at the annual banquet to a junior female student with high academic achievement and moral character.

ARTS COMPETITION

The two first-place cowinners are Houston Trueblood (nominated by Robert Barrett, professor of visual arts), and Rachel Willis Sørensen, a vocalist (nominated by Darrell Babidge, assistant professor in music).

ECLECTIC CORNER

- PKP sponsored its first service project under the direction of its student vice presidents. The participants prepared instructional puppets to be distributed to needy children through LDS Humanitarian Services.
- Student vice president Cassandra Lawyer has submitted a proposal for a literacy grant from the national Phi Kappa Phi. If funded, the BYU chapter will promote literacy among preschool children in south Provo.
- From January 23–25, 2009, our student vice president Cassandra Lawyer attended a PKP student leadership conference at the national PKP offices in New Orleans, Louisiana. She represented BYU well and was selected by her national colleagues as a regional representative for the West and as a student board liaison.
- Work has begun by the national office in preparing an updated membership directory which promises to become "an invaluable tool in . . . building and maintaining a strong personal network." You may update your profile by going to www.memberconnections.com/phikappaphi.
